Screenshot	 The screenshot displays the Replit web interface. The top section shows the user profile for 'Tran Hung' (@hungtmh20002) with a 'Public Apps' tab selected. Below the profile, a public app is listed with the ID 'IA1' and a status of '9 minutes ago'. The left sidebar contains navigation links for Home, Apps, Published apps, Integrations, Usage, Explore Replit, Developer Frameworks, Learn, and Documentation. The 'Your Starter Plan' section indicates 'Free Apps' (1/20 created) and 'Agent Usage' (21% used). Below this, there is a button to 'Upgrade to Replit Core' and a link to 'Install Replit on' a mobile device. The bottom part of the screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL 'cac21634-54f8-4cbe-a758-4f33510fecfd-00-2d8nfvmcb3dgj.pike.replit.dev'. The browser's address bar and tabs are visible, and the main content area displays the text 'Hello from my Node.js app!'.
